Each player has a tennis racquet and a balloon. Pairs hit the balloon to one another using their racquets. If they don't have a racquet, players can use their hands instead.	Experiment With Rainbow Colored Flowers & Celery Have some fun with food coloring while learning about flowers and plants with this experiment. All you need is white flowers or celery stalks, food coloring, water, and a bit of patience.	How do clouds make rain? You can easily show this to your kids with a few simple materials. You'll need shaving cream (use the foam kind, not gel), a jar, water, and food coloring. Fill the jar almost to the top with water. Cover the top with a "cloud" of shaving cream. Let your child drop food coloring into the cloud until the color starts "raining" into the water below. Explain that this is how rain works too. The water collects in the cloud until there is too much, and then it leaks through, forming rain.
